Keyence Releases CV-X100 Series Auto-Teaching Machine Vision System

Written by Mike Buetow
Monday, 10 December 2012 11:58 -

CV-X100 series has an intuitive interface for quick and easy inspection setup. Now features Auto-Teach Inspection, point and click measurement tools, and more. Automatically creates an inspection based off of a set of good parts. Programmed to account for even subtle color differences in the subject parts by utilizing the full color information. Performs high-precision measurements through simple mouse operations, with no calculations required. Automatically generates a user manual customized to the user's specific programs.

Keyence, www.keyence.com/PRCVX